Agee on CIA in Greece

The Greek government reportedly has attempted to stop publication of an article on CIA presence in Greece written by former CIA agent Philip Agee. The article, published Saturday in the left-of-center biweekly magazine "Anti," names 64 Americans that Agee claimed are now in Greece as CIA employees, plus another 175 he said had previously served in Greece. Agee called on Greeks to work for the Americans' expulsion. The government attempted to stop publication of Anti's 30-page CIA supplement by offering the magazine full financial compensation, according to a senior staff member.
